

KUSU CLOAKROOM

£1 per item.

1 item per hanger.

Cloakroom will take reasonable care of items left.

Cloakroom and/or KUSU accept no liability for loss, theft or damage to any goods left. Cloakroom staff will keep your property in the Cloakroom until the end of the night. You cannot claim items without a valid ticket.

Items can be collected at the end of the night (when all other items have been collected) from security when a clear description must be given, identification is shown and contact details are left. If a clear description cannot be given then you should return the next day to the security office. If the staff are not sure that the item is yours it will be retained and the matter passed to the Security Co-ordinator. Reasonable care will be taken of the item until the owner is correctly identified. Items not collected at the end of the night can be collected from the security office.

Cloakroom, security and or KUSU accept no responsibility for items not collected on the same night items were checked in.

Cloakroom reserves the right to refuse to accept items.

Any items left unclaimed for six weeks, will be sold. Any proceeds from the sale will go towards administrative costs.

By placing your item(s) in the cloakroom you are agreeing to the above conditions.

Any complaints about Cloakroom should be made to the Security Department.
